

Luxurious accommodation

Ideally nestled between pristine beaches and beautiful national parkland, there is one place that stands out above all others, the spectacular suburb of Shell Cove. Warrigal Shell Cove is what a community should be. At its heart is The Quay, a contemporary shared space including café, bistro and lounges. It is a place where everybody will be able to connect and spend time with friends, new and old.

Our limited selection of six one-bedroom serviced apartments are conveniently located on the ground floor of The Quay, allowing customers to make the most of its shared spaces. Contemporary, bright and airy, they are designed with a coastal theme that evokes memories of holidays at the beach and summers past.

A spacious open-plan living area features a lounge, dining space and kitchenette. These apartments have been designed to adapt as needs change over time. Of course, there is also a private bathroom. External doors provide direct access to a private terrace surrounded by beautifully landscaped outdoor areas. You can tend to your garden while enjoying the coastal breezes.

Customers can personalise their new apartment with their own choice of furnishings and their favourite possessions, to make it feel just like home.
